M. C. R. R. ABANDONMENT POSSIBLE

ANNOUNCEMENT SURE TO CAUSE CONSTERNATION

The Avalanche recently published an article warning the public that there was a possibility of losing the Mackinaw Division of the Michigan Central railroad, and stating that the matter is being considered by the officials of that railroad.

Considerable interest was aroused by that article and one northern Michigan publisher accepted the article with little credence. However, later developments proved that our article was correct, and that the warning was timely and important. No application for abandonment has yet been made but an article published in the Bay City Times last Friday says regarding the matter, the following:

"The Michigan Central railroad is making a study of earnings and operating expenses to determine if it should make application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to abandon the so-called Mackinaw Division, Bay City to Mackinaw City. This was revealed today by Henry Shearer, Detroit, vice-president and general manager of the railroad, in answer to rumors current for sometime. Mr. Shearer's statement follows in part:

"The discontinuance of any part of the transportation system must necessarily be handled finally for approval with the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Michigan Public Utilities Commission. This company (meaning the Michigan Central railroad) has always followed that procedure. It has been our practice for a great many years, where we find low and unprofitable operations, to make careful investigation as to the earnings of such trackage or branch and the expenses of operation thereon. We are doing this for the so-called Mackinaw Division between Bay City and Mackinaw City. The result of this investigation will of course guide any steps that we may take in making application to the commissions for abandonment of the property."

"There are 182 miles of direct trackage on the Northern Division between Bay City and Mackinaw City. Points along the line include: Kawkawlin, Linwood, Pinconning, Standish, West Branch, Roscommon, Grayling, Gaylord, Vanderbilt, Wolverine, Indian River, Topinabee, and Cheboygan."

Local Company Sounds Warning.
So important is this matter to the people of Northern Michigan that Kerry & Hanson Flooring Company of this city has sent letters to some of the manufacturing institutions located on the Mackinaw division, requesting co-operative effort to forestall actual application for abandonment on the part of the officials of the railroad.

These letters were addressed to the following:
Campbell Stone Co., Indian River, Vanderbilt Mfg. Co., Vanderbilt.
And chambers of commerce of the following communities: Mackinaw City, Cheboygan, Gaylord, West Branch, Roscommon, Standish, Pinconning, Gladwin and Bay City. The letter reads as follows:
Gentlemen:

The enclosed reprint is taken from the Bay City Daily Times of September 23rd, and is self-explanatory. We had heard before that the Michigan Central was going into this matter, but this is the first definite confirmation of all the rumors that have come to us.

While an application may never be made for abandonment of the Mackinaw Division, it seems to us that it would be good policy to anticipate the question so as to be prepared in case it does come up.

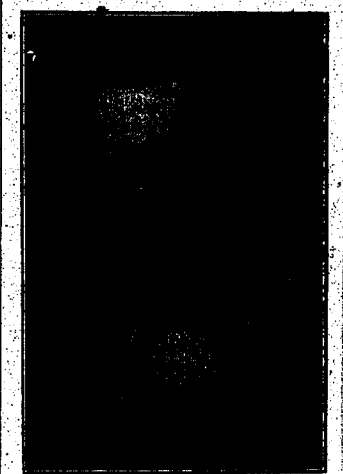

If the Mackinaw Division were

JOHN W. PAYNE FALLS DEAD

WAS SUPT. FREDERIC SCHOOLS AND COUNTY COMMISSIONER

This community was greatly shocked at the news of the sudden death of John W. Payne, that occurred at noon Monday. Death was pronounced as coronary embolism, or blood clot in one of the arteries from the heart.

On Monday, September 19th, Mr. Payne suffered severe cuts as the result of an auto accident when a county highway truck struck his auto as he was on the way home from school. Broken glass caused severe cuts about his neck and face. He was taken to Mercy hospital and was getting along nicely and left the hospital Saturday for his home. Monday morning he assumed his usual duties as superintendent of the Frederic schools and as he was about to leave for home at noon, when he reached the room door, he seemed to stagger and then fell to the floor, and died almost immediately.

At the time of the accident he is reported to have lost considerable blood and no doubt was in a weakened condition. The cut on his neck was dangerously near the jugular vein.

For many years Mr. Payne had been superintendent of schools of Frederic and was acknowledged to have been an excellent educator. Pupils from Frederic schools always seemed to have well founded educations and were well able to cope with pupils from larger schools. No doubt Mr. Payne did a lot for the boys and girls of that town and we consider they have been fortunate in having such an able instructor at the head of their school. He was a graduate of Hillsdale college of the class of 1918 and held a Life certificate and had the degree of A. B.

Mr. Payne became a resident of Frederic in 1919, when he was hired as superintendent of the schools there, and in 1921 was appointed to the office of commissioner of schools. In all he had taught 31 years and also while in Hillsdale held the public office of justice of peace for 16 years and was also justice of peace at Frederic for four years. He was a hard worker and lived his school life with real seriousness. In every way Mr. Payne lived a clean life and was an exemplary example of good citizenship, and was ambitious in everything he attempted. He took an active interest in church work and oftentimes occupied the pulpit of the Frederic church. He suffered many inconveniences but through it all he never complained but kept steadily in the course of his duties. In community and also county affairs he was always willing and ready to do his part and never was found wanting. In the passing of Mr. Payne, Frederic schools and the schools of the county have lost a faithful servant and one who will be hard to replace.

Mr. Payne was born in Somerset Township, Hillsdale County. He was twice united in marriage, the first time on Dec. 24, 1912 and to the union two children were born, Paul Victor and Beulah Evelyn. July 26, 1924 he was married to Miss Edith M. Shreve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Schreve and to this union six children were born, Helen Jean, who died in infancy; John W. Jr., age 6, James Orlo, age 4, Edith Joan, age 3, Gretchen Christine, age 2, and Ruth Rosalind, born June 14, 1932.

Funeral services were held Wednesday from Frederic M. P. church and interment was in Frederic cemetery. Rev. J. W. Greenwood of Norway, Mich., former pastor of Grayling Michelson Memorial church, officiated and the funeral was well attended with friends of the family present from all parts of the County. Grayling schools and most of the schools of the county were closed yesterday afternoon and Grayling business places closed between the hours of two and three o'clock as a tribute of esteem to Mr. Payne.

Besides his wife and children, the deceased is survived by three brothers and one sister, Henry and William A. Payne of Litchfield; Manly Payne, Jerome, Mich., and Mrs. Charles Hibbs, Coldwater. Mrs. Payne and children have the sympathy of the people of Frederic and Grayling and of the people generally of Crawford county.

YUILL BROS. POTATO WAREHOUSE BURNED

INTERIOR MASS OF FLAMES WHEN DISCOVERED. FIRE IS INCENDIARY.

The Yuill Bros. potato warehouse at Vanderbilt was burned to the ground Wednesday night, even though the Vanderbilt fire department, with assistance from Gaylord, did all that was humanly possible to get the blaze under control.

The fire was first discovered about 8:30, when neighbors smelled the smoke. Investigation found the location, and that the entire interior of the building was a mass of flames before it broke through the walls and was visible.

The warehouse was being put in shape for fall and winter storage, and only a few potatoes were in it, according to reports. There is no doubt that the fire was of incendiary origin, starting in the extreme northeast corner of the building. The heavy walls kept the blaze from being noticed until the inside of the building was all afire.

The great worry on the part of Vanderbilt people was that the flames would reach the several gasoline storage tanks nearby, which would have spelled doom to a part if not all, the town, and every effort was made to keep the fire away from them.

With the four warehouses at Elmira, one of Boyne Falls, and this one, it looks as if an organized effort is being made to wipe out the local storage plants. Gaylord Herald-Times.

ALUMNI TO SPONSOR PLAY OCT. 7TH

TO BE MYSTERY DRAMA AUGMENTED BY CHORUSES

"Ghost House," a thrilling stage drama of a type never before attempted here will be given by local talent at the Grayling High school auditorium Friday night, October 7, under the auspices of the G.H.S. Alumni Association, which has been planning to give the performance since last spring.

Miss Anne Miller, director of the play, arrived Monday morning and began work immediately organizing the cast for rehearsals which have already begun. She comes highly recommended, having a diploma from the Bush Conservatory, Chicago, and having taken dramatic work as a member of the Theatre Arts Production directed by Elias Day of Hollywood, California.

In addition to the play itself, "Ghost House" features between acts several entertainments in the form of novel choruses and dance groups. One of the most outstanding choruses and the one featured above all others in the show, states Miss Miller, is the Detective Chorus made up of 20 business men in comic sleuth attire. The act is run through to the accompaniment of violent shooting. Another chorus of outstanding merit is the Sneak Dance put on by seven girls cleverly costumed for a tap dance number. A most unusual chorus is the Ghost Dance group including seven girls who, dressed as ghosts entertain with a phantasy of weird and ghostly actions.

HEAR MCCALLUM FRIDAY NIGHT

The George P. McCallum dinner talk will take place tomorrow—Friday—night at Shoppengons Inn, at 6:30 o'clock sharp.

Cashier John Bruun of Grayling State Savings Bank says that every man owning property in the north or having an interest in the welfare of this part of Michigan, should not fail to hear Mr. McCallum. The latter has given extensive study to the problems such as ours and it seems that here is "opportunity" again knocking at our doors, prepared to show us the way to better ourselves. We are not exactly familiar with just what Mr. McCallum will have to say. Mr. Bruun's enthusiastic endorsement will warrant our active cooperation in giving this visitor a cordial reception and to see that there is a good attendance to hear his address. There is no charge except for the dinner. It is seldom that Mr. Bruun asks any special favors from the public and by backing him up in this effort to bring to us valuable information, we will be doing ourselves a favor by attending. You are cordially invited.

AUSABLE CARETAKER TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Charles Malone, of Roscommon, 45 years old, was found dead in his cabin on the Ausable River, about two miles out of town. He had shot himself through the head with a rifle. A note on the door to his wife, Mae, read as follows: "Don't go inside unless some one is with you. I still love you. You did not think I would do this, but I did."

Mrs. Malone, employed in a restaurant in Roscommon, said her husband often had threatened to kill himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Malone were formerly caretakers of the Underhill Club, at Lovells; the Red Dog, on the Ausable, and the Cady Durham Lodge, also on that stream.

THE AMENDMENTS

The voters of Michigan will be confronted with the duty of voting on eight different amendments on election day November 8th. Some of these amendments are being intelligently discussed by Michigan newspapers, with an idea of giving the voters some guidance as to their purposes.

The Avalanche will from week to week endeavor to give our views on the amendments. There are too many to discuss in one edition. Following we take up the discussion of two. Voters are requested, if they are interested, and they should be, to study our suggestions and also, all further reliable information they may find on the subjects and be prepared to decide how to vote when the time comes. These will not be repeated so please save the several issues of the Avalanche so you may review them just before election time.

The two we are taking up at this time are submitted by joint resolution of the two branches of the legislature and each proposes certain changes in the qualifications of electors. The first proposes two changes in Section 1 of Article III and the second a change in Section 4 of Article III.

Under the present language of Section 1 of Article III a person must be a resident of a township or ward at least 20 days before he may become a qualified elector. The proposed amendment in this respect would change the word "ward" to "city." It is contended that in most cities, ward lines are merely election district lines and no longer constitute the boundaries of districts for government or for taxation. Under the system of permanent registration recently adopted for the large cities, it is contended that electors frequently move about from ward to ward, also frequently losing their right of franchise unknowingly and unintentionally.

Another proposed change in the same section refers to the use of polling places located within the limits of villages incorporated at fifth class cities. Leslie is a good example of what might happen. Suppose the voters of that village decided to incorporate as a fifth class city. In such an event that portion of Leslie township as at present constituted would be without a suitable place or a suitable central point at which one might be located in addition to which might be mentioned the expense of building a town hall to be used only at election time. If the amendment is adopted then the present town hall might continue to be used as a polling place, both by the electors of the city of Leslie and by the electors of the township outside the present village. It is said there are several instances where such a contingency has arisen by reason of incorporation of villages as cities.

Under the change proposed to Section 4 of Article III, those permitted to vote upon the direct expenditure of public money or the issue of bonds to be paid out of direct tax would be confined to those whose names appear upon the tax rolls and to their lawful husbands or wives.

It is contended that in many instances burdensome debt and extreme taxes have been voted upon property owners because of ballots cast by non-taxpayers. If the proposed amendment is adopted, only those who pay the tax will be permitted to vote the tax. This restriction would apply to all matters involving direct tax or bond issues—state, county, township, city, school district, or special improvement district. Already by statute these restrictions have been applied to petitions for improvement and similar projects. It is now proposed to carry the restrictions into all matters pertaining to direct taxes and bonded indebtedness.

These two proposals involving three distinct changes in the requirements for qualified voters are simple. They require no debate and no detailed explanation. The last mentioned may be somewhat controversial but every voter is capable of forming his own opinion upon each.

"DOLLAR DAY" seems to be going over in a big way. It is quite amazing to see the very liberal cuts our merchants are giving. It means real savings for everyone who patronizes these stores next Tuesday. If you don't want to miss some real attractive bargains, read every advertisement from beginning to end; there'll be many happy surprises for you. All "Dollar Day" advertisements are plainly indicated. The ANCHOR fully appreciates the wholehearted way in which the merchants got into the game. Everyone having an advertisement took it because he wanted it—nobody was urged to buy space. We hope our merchants are going to be satisfied, and that this venture will make a lot of new customers for their stores.—O. P. Schumann.

The Roscommon County Welfare Committee which Mrs. Erna Wheeler organized last year to assist in carrying on the work of the Senator Cousens Health Fund for the children of Michigan held its initial meeting last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Carl Nordstrom near Roscommon. Twenty-five ladies were in attendance from St. Helen, N. Richfield, Roscommon, Gerrish and Higgins Lake.

Mrs. Isaac Shirey was the leader for the day. A clothing committee, consisting of Mrs. John Ostling, Mrs. Clarence Shepherd and Mrs. Glenn Wayne was appointed to secure quarters for clothing and other things collected for the needy and to look after them and their distribution. Mrs. Merton McClure was elected Treasurer.

Meetings will be held every third Wednesday in the month. The next meeting, Oct. 19, will be entertained by Mrs. Frank Richardson. Mrs. Gile gave an interesting talk about what was accomplished last year in Crawford County.

Mr. Louis Myers is having his house raised and a basement installed. Mr. Robert Steckling has remodelled his house and will build several over-nite cabins on his property near the airport.

A number of the summer cottages at the various beaches are still occupied and will be during the fall and some during the winter.

J. E. Richards, editor of the Alpena News and immediate past president of the E.M.T.A., will speak at the afternoon session of the annual meeting to be held in the Log Office, Thursday afternoon, October 6. The evening meeting takes the form of the usual banquet in the Hotel Wenonah.

L. R. Schoenmann, of the Laid Economic Division, of the Department of Conservation, who has spent some months in studying land conditions throughout the state with a view to obtaining data from which to plan the use of different types of land to get the greatest value therefrom, will reveal some results of this study at the same session. Tourist and resort men, land owners and farmers who attend should get much of practical benefit from this talk.

EXPOSITION COVERS LATE EXPLORATIONS

Shows Interesting Objects
From Asia and Africa.

Washington.—Following its famous Colonial exposition of last year Paris this season is holding an exposition of the recently discovered geography of two continents, Asia and Africa.

Americans visiting France are going in large numbers to this exposition—that of the Citroen-Haardt expedition, first to cross the Sahara by motor, first through the heart and length of Africa and that just returned from making the first wheeled span of Asia, through the least-known regions of the giant continent. Americans have a special interest in the new exposition because it includes a photographic survey made by the American representative from the National Geographic society which co-operated with the Trans-Asia expedition.

The spanning of Asia by motor, accounted the outstanding exploration of 1932, entered areas never before traversed by Europeans, covered many stretches not traveled since Marco Polo's time, visited places where wheeled vehicles hitherto were unknown, and photographed many regions, peoples and natural objects which never before had faced a camera.

Interesting Exhibits.
The exposition is housed in the vast Palais des Expositions in the Place de l'Etoile. It is set up in 15 "salons" or divisions. One displays a complete Mongolian yurt, the mobile tent home of the nomads of the east Asiatic plateau, with the implements these wandering people carry from place to place, and the richly ornamented costume of a Mongol princess, costume models of Kirghiz women, various other nomad apparel, headgear, and the exotic jewelry of the desert tribes.

Archaeological collections contain many objects first shown in Europe; medical exhibits bear especially upon the curious and ancient practices of Chinese healing; and natural history collections include plants, insects, and animal specimens which add new data to knowledge of life forms of the continent where mankind originated.

Of great interest is the ethnographic salon where is displayed a collection of specimens from Syria, Persia, Afghanistan, India, Burma, Indo-China and Turkestan.

By employing motors for the first time in spanning Asia, the expedition was able to drive its specially built tractor-type cars through unexplored parts of mountain-furrowed Afghanistan; into 14,000-foot passes of the Himalayas higher than many peaks of the Alps, where no wheels ever before had turned on steep, snow-bound yak trails, across the trackless wastes of the Gobi desert and through bandit-infested wild western China. Use of the cars enabled the modern equipment, including color cameras, short-wave radio, sound-recording apparatus and numerous scientific instruments to portray, study and collect specimens of all phases of the long-hidden wonders of the mother continent.

To face extremes of heat and cold—ranging from 25 below zero to 115 above—clothing had to be carried which varied from suits invented by Sir Ernest Shackleton for Antarctic work to khaki safari blouses, shirts and pith helmets for protection against the blazing desert sun. These and other equipment were hauled in trailers and there was a kitchen car where food could be prepared while the motor caravan was on the move, so meals might be served immediately for the halts, which were frequently brief in runs that ran as long as 18 hours a day.

Bullet-Scarred Car.
In the main hall of the exposition is the bullet-scarred car in which the leader, Georges-Marie Haardt, was riding when it was riddled by the fire of Chinese brigands. The "Salon of Honor" is the room devoted to the martyr leader of the expedition, M. Haardt, who, after making the arduous 10,000-mile journey without the loss of a man, himself died of pneumonia, weakened by exhaustion after months of leading his motor caravan through untracked areas.

Portrayed in diorama—a mode of scenic representation devised by Daguerre—are contrasting scenes in the Gobi desert and the ascent of the formidable Burzil pass, in the Himalaya mountains.

The National Geographic society's exhibit comprises a wide series of noteworthy photographs, in sepia enlargement, constituting a pictorial representation of the expedition's progress, taken by the society's representative, Dr. Maynard Owen Williams, who was decorated with the Legion of Honor upon arrival in China. It also includes exhibits of the society's various world explorations, and of its world-wide scientific and educational work. The American exhibit was assembled at the headquarters of the society in Washington, upon invitation of M. Andre Citroen, patron of the African and Asiatic expeditions.

In recognition of the Franco-American co-operation in the explorations the National Geographic society recently elected the president of France an honorary member of the society, an honor accorded fewer than a score of individuals in the history of the society.

Oil Variations
Coal oil is the same as petroleum, but the term is generally a synonym for kerosene, which is a hydrocarbon oil used in lamps. The term is usually restricted to the distillate of crude petroleum having a specific gravity of about .807, a flashing point of upward of 110 degrees Fahrenheit and a burning point of upward of 125 degrees Fahrenheit.

FATE OF BANDIT AROUSSES CORSICA

Case of Last of Robin Hood Divides Island.

Bastia, Corsica.—The fate of the picturesque and romantic bandit of Corsica is swinging in the balance as a court decision decides the case of the last of the Robin Hood, known as Jean Simon Ettori, who ranged the island brush for 27 years and gave himself up to the authorities in their campaign to cleanse the island.

All of Corsica is divided over the question, which they claim is one of honor, involving the right of native Corsicans to pursue their feuds and live the free and adventurous life of banditry, according to the code in which personal honor with a dash of kindness and gallantry, flavors their ways.

Ettori claims he committed only one crime, and that 27 years ago, which was demanded on the honor of his family. Being thus outlawed, Ettori accepted the life of beautiful and primitive hillside, and for 27 years he carried on in the true Robin Hood style.

Ettori was unsympathetic to the killers and murderers who rob taverns and poor people indiscriminately to the bad reputation of the island and the Corsican race.

It is claimed that Ettori's past is not all filled with gallant exchanges of booty from rich to poor, nor are his days and nights idyls of free and romantic beauty in the tower-scented headlands over the Sappho sea. There is a little item of the killing of Antoine Lenti at Pila Canale, when three distinguished bandits arrived at his tavern, demanded much wine, asked for the bill and paid it with bullets, killing Lenti and blinding a customer, Dominique Casablanca.

There is a tale of wounded gendarmes in a scuffle at Sapparo when a bandit was being sought who had not done his military service, and who let a gun fall in his fight, and this gun bore the name of Simon Ettori.

These incidents must be studied by the court, but there is no doubt that Ettori has honorably presented himself to the court, and if it decides he has honorably lived, Ettori, the honor bandit, will go free.

Finds Gratitude Isn't Among Elk's Virtues

Yellowstone Park, Wyo.—Elk in Yellowstone park have not been taught that gratitude ranks high among the virtues, according to Marion R. Crowell, park ranger.

Crowell recently found an elk calf floundering in the waters of the Madison river. The calf's mother, frantic in her desire to save her offspring, was standing on the bank, unable to aid the helpless youngster.

Crowell, who was on motorcycle duty, dismounted from his machine when he saw the calf's plight and swam into the icy waters. He managed to save the elk from drowning and took it to shore. As he was laying the calf down on the bank, he heard a bellow and snort behind him, and turned to see the mother elk coming in his direction in no uncertain manner.

The mother's anguish had turned to rage, and she did not seem to realize Crowell had saved her calf's life. Crowell fled.

Cigar Boxes Are Used to Build Model Church

Geneva, N. Y.—A three-foot model of a cathedral tower, made of nothing but cigar boxes, has been constructed by Russell R. Isenhour.

Five spires surmount the structure, which is complete with alcoves, porticos and entrances. The exterior is arrayed in numerous metallic colors, including gold, bronze, aluminum and purple.

One of the most remarkable features of the model is its mechanical equipment. The tower contains an old German clock. In a miniature street in front of the building stands a lamp post, surmounted by a little electric clock. As the clock prepares to strike the hour, a tiny mechanical man emerges from the building. He holds an electric light in his hand. Going into the street, he turns about, glances at the face of the clock, and disappears into the doorway.

Paoia, Colo.—Mrs. L. M. Keater has been honored as the Colorado mother who has borne the greatest number of children. Of the 21 children, 12 boys and seven girls, who have been born to Mrs. Keater, ten are living. Mrs. Keater has lived in Colorado 40 years.

Texas Dog Works in U. S. Civil Service

Willis, Texas.—Although he has never been placed on the pay roll, a hound dog here is one of the most faithful of the United States civil service workers.

At three o'clock every morning a bus driver deposits a sack of mail on the sidewalk of this little inland town. As the bus driver leaves, the dog lies down on the sack and allows no one to approach the mail until the postmaster arrives several hours later.

We suppose the reason they use makeup is that they have not the face to go without it.

Announcement that Japan will make a contract with Russia for the oil to run her warships and will no longer depend on the United States for a supply is a straw to show which way the wind is blowing and also to prove that Uncle Sam wants to watch his step so far as Oriental politics is concerned.

BUYING THINGS

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Late Dean of Men,
University of Illinois.

King Eadgar in "The King's Henchman" has lost his wife and wants a second. He is lonesome as widowers often are, and is eager for a young and beautiful companion. He is a busy man, or thinks he is, which really amounts to the same thing, and so is delegating Aethelwold to go in search of a new queen and to plead his cause for him, and says to him as he is leaving on his mission:

"Lord, I am lonesome for a lovely woman
To buy things for!
Bright silk that clashes like a sword!
And gems from the East, not seen before
In England!
And weight her crown with them, that she might not walk
but leaning on my arm.
Ah, Aethelwold
What dost thou think on, in the Lenten-tide
When the white thorn blossoms on the haw?"

Part of the joy of life for the king was in buying things. I sympathize with him; I have exactly the same sort of feeling. Half the pleasure of living would be gone if I could not buy things, and if there were no one for whom to buy. London to me means among other interesting things Regent street and Liberty's with its beautiful fabrics and potteries and curious and quaint things from foreign lands, and the joy of buying something. I should not want to go to Edinburgh if I could not buy things, but you see I am not like King Eadgar, for I have some one to buy things for. I am not given to the blues; melancholy and mental depression I know little about, but one would scarcely be mortal if he did not at some time or other feel a little low. At such a time of mental or even financial depression nothing heartens me so much as to buy something.

POTPOURRI

Slow Coal Formation
Scientists have estimated that a dense vegetation growth will yield annually one ton of dried vegetable matter to the acre, or 640 to the square mile. Such growth continued for 1,000 years, and all compressed to the density of coal, would form a coal seam six inches thick. Some coal is 250 feet thick.

abandoned, it would mean the end of our operation here at Grayling and undoubtedly, there are others along the line who would be similarly affected.

A matter of this kind calls for co-ordinated action on the part of all concerned and we would appreciate an expression from you to determine what should be done. Our idea would be to first have meetings in all the communities affected to centralize the local interest and then later a general get-together meeting of representatives from all the communities along the line could be arranged, should that prove necessary.

Yours very truly,
Kerry & Hanson Flooring Co.
Per Emil Giegling.

The seriousness of this matter is well manifest to such firms as employ the railroad for shipments. The average man, however, will have little concern in the matter until the "horse is stolen" and then he will say, "why wasn't there something done to prevent it?" The horse is still in the stable and there is still time to do something about it.

As has been pointed out editorially and otherwise by the Avalanche, the best weapon to use against the abandonment of our railroad, is to give the road some patronage. A railroad cannot live without business. While nearly everyone travels in an auto these days, still there is much freight to be hauled that could be carried by the railroads instead of trucks that wear out our highways at our expense.

We believe that the motor transport regulations are unfair tax and promote a hardship for the railroads in competition. As has often been pointed out, the railroads maintain expensive right-of-ways and are bound about by red-tape laws and regulations that make operating costly. On the other hand the motor transports operate over highways that are maintained by the taxpayers. They have no regularity of schedule and go whenever they like and where they desire. The railroads cannot hope to compete with such unequal competition. If motor transports are required to pay for the use of the highways in accordance with the size of the vehicle and the number of miles traveled, the same as is required in the state of Kentucky, then the railroads could easily compete.

Railroads are still the backbone of this country's stability. They are needed and will be needed and it is up to the public to give them their patronage if they can hope to keep them. Supply houses that sell goods to the Avalanche office know and understand that no merchandise shipped to us by truck will be accepted. We insist that our shipments must come to us by rail. If every consumer will insist likewise, then we believe there will be little fear of the Mackinac division being abandoned. But unless that is done, it will be only a matter of time before there isn't going to be a railroad coming into Grayling.

SCHOOL NOTES

Class meetings were held Friday to determine the officers for the current year. Advisors were assigned and everyone was eager to get classes organized.

The Senior class held its meeting the first hour in the afternoon and was pleased to learn that Mr. Poor had been assigned as advisor. Mr. Poor had been on a vacation from advisement and the class greatly appreciated the fact that he consented to advise them in their last year of high school, when expert advice and opinions are so very necessary.

There was much agitation over the matter of class president, only two candidates being named: Kenneth Gothro gained the victory over his girl opponent, and then took charge of the class as its president.

Milford Parker was elected vice president and Wilma Burrows, secretary.

The very responsible position of treasurer is held by Elaine Reagan.

The class is now ready to do business and has already ordered rings, which will arrive in a few weeks.

A committee is working on the matter of a senior play, which will be given early this year, but has, as yet, reached no conclusion.

Ninth Grade.

The Ninth grade, with Miss Freeman as advisor, elected officers, set class dues and prepared for future meetings, the second hour in the afternoon.

The class officers are: Clyde Borchers, president; Helen May, vice president; Yvonne Kraus, treasurer; and Loretta Sorenson, secretary.

The class decided to have a meeting once a month, the dues to be five cents a meeting.

Seventh Grade.

Mrs. Schmidt was assigned advisor of the Seventh grade, which chose the following students as class officers: President, Wayne Nellist; vice president, Frances Entsminger; secretary, Corinne Burns; treasurer, John Henry Peterson.

The class dues were decided upon at five cents a month.

The colors green and gold were selected as class colors.

Sophomores.

Eighth Grade.

The Eighth grade class advisor is Miss Nichols. They chose Bobby Hanson, president; Pauline Entsminger, vice president; Max Ferguson, secretary, and Wesley Dunham, treasurer.

A Senior class meeting was called last Monday to choose the '33 ring. A salesman working through the local dealer presented some of his wares to the class. After much debating the design was decided upon. The class was given until Oct. 5th to place the orders. Then all the anxiety of waiting for the rings.

During the week the list of the following two committees were placed on the bulletin board: Dorothy Roberts, Farrell Gorman, Norma Pray, and Jack LaGrow, to make selections for a class play; and Elma Mae Sorenson, Gail Welsh, Milford Parker, and Gerald Herriek, to make selections for a class motto, colors and flower.

SOUTH SIDE WINS 2 OUT OF 3 FROM BEAVER CREEK

The South Side "Stump Dodgers" showed Beaver Creek a style of "Soft Ball" that enabled them to take the last two games out of the three played at Johnnie LaMotte's field last Sunday.

After losing the first game 9-2, the South Side gained confidence with the change of pitchers and pounded Ted Wheeler for fourteen runs to win 14-7.

The third and deciding game of the afternoon was a "Comedy of Errors," with Beaver Creek making about 15 of them to help Elmer Neal taste his first defeat of the year to the tune of 18-8.

Ben Pankow of the South Side team proved the hero of both of the first two games and showed some of the younger players that age was still reliable.

Plans for a "Round Robin" tournament is under way for next Sunday. Four teams are entering. They are: Frederic, Beaver Creek, Mead's "Wildcats" (Roscommon) and Grayling. There will be two games in the forenoon and the losers of those games will play the opener in the afternoon while the winners of the morning round will clash in the night-cap.

It has been rumored that this is to be a "Seeded" tournament with Beaver Creek crying vengeance toward Frederic.

These games will be played at Chris King's field, near his home on the South Side.

There is no admission for the games and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Our honest opinion is that if Governor Roosevelt should happen to be elected President his biggest worry is going to be William Randolph Hearst.

Mississippians have four tickets this year and can vote their choice. Usually they only have one of the "take it or leave it" variety.

Typewriter ribbons for nearly all makes of machines, carried in stock. Also ribbons and rolls for Burrows and Victor adding machines. Avalanche Office. Phone 111.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sorenson, Miss Mabel Brasie and Mrs. Alfred Hanson were in Cadillac Friday on optical business.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Leche, of Houston, Texas, left Wednesday after spending a week visiting Mrs. Louise Conine and Mary Gretchen, at their summer home, "White Birches" on Lake Margrethe.

Thomas Brennan and James LaGrow of Saginaw were callers at the B. J. Callahan home Sunday. Returning Sunday evening they were accompanied by Ted Callahan, who is employed in Bay City.

Miss Marguerite Montour is enjoying a couple of weeks vacation from her duties at the Grayling Bakery and is spending it in Ann Arbor and Detroit, visiting her sister Miss Genevieve at the former place.

Miss Aileen Duby, Miss Phyllis White, and Miss McKay will spend tonight in Cheboygan. They were accompanied as far as Wolverine by Miss Laura Hungerford, who will visit her parents there for the week end.

Emerson Brown shot a 36, one less than per on Grayling Golf course last Sunday. There is only one other person that we have heard of in the history of the course, getting a similar score. To get that score takes some very clever shooting.

On the occasion of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. William Golinick, Jr., last Saturday, a dancing party was enjoyed at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. William Golinick Sr., near Roscommon that evening. Relatives and friends of Mrs. Golinick from Grayling were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Anderson of St. Louis, Missouri, the former, who was a resident of Grayling having been employed for the Grayling Telephone company at one time during its existence, were guests for several days the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Gorman. Mr. Anderson and Mrs. Gorman are cousins.

Joseph Gavenda was made happy over the week end with an unexpected visit from his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Oak of Chicago, who was accompanied by her husband and son Stanley. It was 16 years since Mr. Gavenda had last seen his daughter and this was a happy meeting. They arrived Friday and left Monday morning.

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Jean W. Murray, daughter of Edgar A. Murray, of Detroit, to Charles E. Warren, Jr., son of Gen. and Mrs. Charles E. Warren, of New York, is a delightful surprise to Grayling friends of the bride. The wedding was quietly solemnized Wednesday morning of last week in New York by the Rev. Charles I. Truby.
